COMPANY BACKGROUND

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Mr. OKNHA PHOU PUY

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The National Bank of Cambodia's 2024 Annual Report shows just how demanding the past year has been for micro-lenders: sector-wide credit grew by barely three percent, while the microfinance non-performing-loan ratio climbed to about nine percent, the highest since the global financial crisis. The Cambodian Microfinance Association records a similar trend, with portfolio-at-risk 30+ reaching 8.2 percent in December 2024, up from 5.7 percent a year earlier.

These numbers underline why, twelve months ago, we asked IPR to slow down, strengthen its defences, and look after existing clients first.

The Management team delivered stricter underwriting, shorter review cycles, and refresher training for every employee on the sector's Code of Conduct helped contain risk; targeted loan restructurings gave borrowers breathing space without extra cost; and our own NPL ratio stayed below the market average while liquidity and capital buffers remained comfortably above regulatory minima. We approved no broad product launches, but we did authorise a small green-loan pilot for practical items such as water pumps. Early repayment behaviour is encouraging, and the product aligns with the central bank's push for sustainable finance. Work on the agriculture-value-chain partnership announced last year was completed in the background; rollout will begin only when economic signals improve. On technology side, the Board asked management to focus on upgrading core systems first and to introduce digital channels only when resources and risk controls are firmly in place.

Looking ahead, the ASEAN + 3 Macroeconomic Research Office projects Cambodia's GDP to grow to roughly six percent in 2025, but it also warns that high household debt and rising NPLs keep the financial-stability outlook fragile.

The Board therefore keeps its agenda simple and measured: Funding resilience; People and systems; Client protection and sustainability, in step with NBC guidance and national and international good practice.

On behalf of the Board, I thank our management team for disciplined execution, our employees for their dedication, the regulator and industry association for steady guidance, and—above all—our clients for the trust they place in us. The steadiness we achieved in 2024 belongs to them as much as to us, and together we will carry that steadiness into the year ahead.

Sincerely Yours,

Oknha PHOU Puy

CEO'S MESSAGE

PHOU SOVANCHAN
Chief Executive Officer

Twelve months ago, I noted that slower growth and rising credit risk called for a steadier hand. Those pressures sharpened in 2024: system-wide lending rose by only about 3 percent, and the micro-finance NPL ratio reached roughly 9 percent—its highest level in more than a decade. Even so, Cambodia's economy still expanded an estimated 5.8 percent, though the operating climate for lenders stayed tight.

In this environment we keep to the basics. We tightened loan assessments while shortening review cycles, and every employee completed refresher training on the Code of Conduct and responsible lending. We also restructured or rescheduled loans for clients facing short-term cash-flow stress, giving them breathing room without extra cost. Together, these steps kept our own NPL ratio below the sector average and let us close the year with a modest profit while maintaining comfortable liquidity and capital buffers.

We launched no broad new products. Instead, we piloted a small green-loan line for practical items such as water pumps; early repayment performance is encouraging. We also finished the groundwork for the agriculture-value-chain partnership announced last year, ready to launch when conditions improve. On the technology side we strengthened internal systems and will add digital services only when we have the resources to support them.

Looking to 2025, forecasts point to about 6 percent GDP growth, but high household debt and uncertain external demand still urge caution. Our priorities remain measured: secure longer-tenor development funding so lending can grow without straining liquidity; keep building staff skills and technology capacity where they strengthen risk control; and complete our work toward full Client-Protection certification, staying fully aligned with National Bank regulations.

On behalf of IPR's management, I would like to express my sincere appreciation for all of IPR employees, the Board of Directors and the Shareholder for all the support and guidance, our partners and CMA for continuing assistance, and the National Bank of Cambodia, for the ongoing support and prudent supervision. We will continue working hard and smart under continuous reflection for the advancement of IPR and our stakeholders.

Responsibility toward the Society and Environment

IPR is fully aware of and lives up to its responsibility to bring about positive impacts on the society and environment. Currently, IPR does not have any measures in place to assess its environmental footprint, however, we try to encourage our stakeholders to pay strong attention on the environment and be eco-friendly whether it is cutting down the use of papers and save water and electricity. Our duty to the public, IPR has made donations on multiple occasions for national emergencies and being responsive to clients' needs in their difficult times. The Chairman of IPR has always been taking part in helping the society especially farmers, and this has built the culture for IPR to always be a helping hand, no matter how small, IPR will always be a part to contribute to the society when they are in need.

By the end of 2024, IPR started control resource usage tracking as the following:

Electricity Consumption:

in KWH: 87,125 KWH

in KHR: 60,519,810

Fuel Consumption:

in Litter: 7,993.20 L

in KHR: 42,819,104

Water Consumption

in Cubic meter: 1,867.00 M3

in KHR: 3,444,100

Paper Usages:

in small box: 61 boxes

in KRH: 4,079,800

IPR participated in the Clean Water and Sanitation Loan Program by Water.org through the Cambodia Microfinance Association (CMA) in 2023. In 2024, IPR provided 249 loans to clients, with a total loan portfolio of USD 33,230. Clients used the loans for: clean water, water quality, sanitation, and combined clean water and sanitation.

As part of its future plans, IPR will expand its lending for clean water and sanitation loans to help improve the living conditions of local communities, ensuring they have adequate access to safe water and proper sanitation to meet their needs.

Below are some clients who have used IPR's clean water and sanitation loans:

Mrs. You Theam borrowed a loan from IPR with the purpose of purchasing a clean water filtration tank for use in her household. Before buying the water filtration tank, she often used boiled pond water, rainwater, and sometimes bought bottled water from local vendors for consumption. Occasionally, she was able to access clean drinking water, but at other times, she and her family consumed unclean or untreated water, which lacked hygiene and led to various illnesses in the family.

Due to all these difficulties, and with additional guidance from the IPR's staff, she decided to take out a loan to purchase a clean water filtration tank for household use.

After using the clean water filtration tank, her family experienced greater convenience, saved time and money, and had access to high-quality clean water.

Ms. Ros Sareun borrowed a loan from IPR with the purpose of constructing a new sanitary toilet. Before building this new toilet, she had an old toilet made of wood that was dilapidated, damaged, small in size, and difficult to use.

Due to these challenges, and with six family members living together, she decided to use part of the loan to construct a new toilet.

Her new toilet is divided into two sections: one bathroom and one separate sanitary toilet, making it much easier and more convenient for her family to use.

To the Shareholder of Intean Poalroath Rongroeurng Ltd.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Intean Poalroath Rongroeurng Ltd ["the Company"], which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2024, and the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2024, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with Cambodian International Financial Reporting Standard for Small and Medium-sized Entities ["CIFRS for SMEs"] and guidelines of the National Bank of Cambodia ("NBC").

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Cambodian International Standards on Auditing ["CISAs"]. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) ["IESBA Code"] together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the Kingdom of Cambodia, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the Report of the Board of Directors, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon, which we obtained prior to the date of this auditor's report, and the annual report, which is expected to be made available to us after that date.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed on the other information that we obtained prior to the date of this auditor's report, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

When we read the annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to the Board of Directors and respond to that matter in accordance with the requirements of CISA 720 [revised].

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors for the financial statements

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with CIFRS for SMEs, and for such internal controls as the Board of Directors determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with CIsAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with CISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation

We communicate with the Board of Directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
